Banat's University of Agricultural Sciences and Veterinary Medicine "King Michael Ist of Romania" from Timisoara (Romania) in cooperation with OBCIANSKE ZDRUZENIE NO GRAVITY (Slovak Republic), CERE - Center of Excellence for

Renewable Energy, Energy Efficiency and Environment (Austria) and The Romania Sustainable Energy Cluster – ROSENC (Romania) are organising between 03-08 July 2017 a 5-days SUMMER SCHOOL in Timisoara, Romania, for Youth workers from Romania, Austria and Slovak Republic.

The SUMMER SCHOOL aims to teach Youth workers, who in turn will teach young people from their communities, to start small businesses in agriculture or to boost their already existing businesses by using renewable energy sources in agriculture in order to increase productivity. They will be taught to assemble simple water pumping and irrigation systems using photovoltaic panels, to cultivate energy crops which will provide energy for their farmhouses, will learn about traditional agriculture and sustainability, through non-formal teaching methods.

We are expecting 30 participants (10 RO, 10 SK, 10 AT) to take part of the event, following the recruitment procedure done by each national coordinator.

Interested Youth workers (teachers, students, volunteers, trainers, mentors working in the field of youth) are invited to contact the national coordinators for more information:
